

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA
Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice
Two Assistant Professor Positions

The Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice at the University of South Carolina invites applications for two tenure-track positions at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2018. For one position, we seek candidates with expertise in the area of policing. For the other position, we seek candidates with expertise in violence. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in criminology or criminal justice, or an earned doctorate in a related social science discipline. ABDs will be considered, but it is expected that the Ph.D. will be in hand prior to the date of appointment—August 15, 2018. Candidates with only a law degree (JD, LLM, SJD) will not be considered. Assistant Professors carry a teaching load of 2 courses per semester, to include offerings at the undergraduate and graduate level as needed; mentor and supervise students; provide service to the Department, College, University, community and discipline; and maintain an active research agenda. Applicants should show clear promise of contributing important scholarly research, effective teaching, and meaningful community engagement.

The University of South Carolina System is comprised of the state's flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 "Best Colleges" according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state's educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

The Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice offers programs leading to bachelors, masters, and Ph.D. degrees. For more information about the Department, please visit the department's website at <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/crju/>.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender, age, disability, veteran status or genetics.
